

Editorial Internship (YouGov.com)

Department: Opigram
Location: 50 Featherstone Street, London, EC1Y 8RT,
Reports To: Editor of YouGov.Com
Duration: 6 months with possibility of becoming permanent
Hours: Full Time (37.5hrs)

Leading opinion research agency YouGov Plc. is looking for a bright and hardworking editorial intern to work on the UK and US websites. Our motto is "What the world thinks", and we track opinion on news, politics, movies, music, books, celebrities, issues and more.

Key Responsibilities:

- Staying on top of the news as it develops, helping to determine the big questions of the day
- Managing and organising crowd-sourced content and topics
- Researching and writing summaries, surveys, and articles on topical opinion
- Thinking creatively about how best to communicate with YouGov members
- Working with content management and survey systems

Skills and personal attributes:

- Excellent writer
- Intuitive understanding of online applications and the web
- Knowledge and instinct for what makes a good story
- Journalism training not essential but an advantage
- Self-starter
- Strong literacy skills

Education and qualifications:

- Fluent written and spoken English
- Graduate

If you have a keen editorial eye, take an interest in tracking and measuring opinion and are fanatical about online media – get in touch!

Please send CV and cover email to opigrampanel@yougov.com