After Christmas the Scottish and Welsh Governments introduced additional restrictions on social distancing and the number of people or households allowed to mix in indoor venues. The UK Government did not introduce similar restrictions in England.

Do you think the UK Government was right or wrong not to introduce similar restrictions for England?

Right - they were right not to introduce similar restrictions to those in Scotland and Wales	43	73	27	31	66	28	32	32	56	46	41	30	40	54	43	44	42	37	48	46	44	27

YouGov Weighting Data

YouGov weights GB political surveys by (1) age interlocked with gender and education, (2) political attention (3) social grade (4) 2019 recalled vote interlocked with region and (5) EU referendum recalled vote. Weighting targets are YouGov estimates, data sources used in the calculation of targets are cited below. General election voting intention figures are additionally weighted by likelihood to vote. The poll was carried out online.

All polls are subject to a wide range of potential sources of error. On the basis of the historical record of the polls at recent general elections, there is a 9 in 10 chance that the true value of a party's support lies within 4 points of the estimates provided by this poll, and a 2 in 3 chance that they lie within 2 points.
