The government's proposals will allow most religions to choose whether or not to conduct gay marriages. The Church of England currently opposes gay marriage, and the proposals prevent the Church of England from conducting gay marriages without a further change in the law.

David Cameron has pledged to fully legalise gay marriage. Do you think this is because...

Thinking about the cuts the government have made to defence spending, do you think they have cut spending on defence by too much, too little or about the right amount?

Thinking about the level of cuts to defence, do you think...

The cuts have damaged Britain's ability to defend itself against security threats, and should be reversed	38	27	50	25	34	52	32	39	38	21	32	43	46	35	43	29	35	37	49	39

Currently people training to work in nurseries need to have at least a C grade in GCSE maths and English (or the equivalent). Do you think...

These requirements are too restrictive, they should be relaxed to allow more people to train to work in nurseries	25	21	27	26	24	27	23	25	25	8	27	23	33	22	29	21	26	26	26	22
These requirements are not restrictive enough, they should increased to ensure better educated people train to work in nurseries	21	25	21	19	23	21	20	20	23	21	20	23	21	23	20	24	19	22	23	20

Islamist rebels have taken over the northern part of the African country of Mali and are trying to overthrow the government. The French have begun military action to prevent the rebels overthrowing the government.

The British government have not sent combat troops to Mali, but have sent 200 troops to help train the Mali army, 40 military advisors and 90 support troops to fly transport and surveillance aircraft

Do you support or oppose sending training and support troops to help the French intervention in Mali?
