44. Opinion on Brnovich V. DNC

This week, the United States Supreme Court heard oral arguments for a case concerning an Arizona law that requires all votes cast in the wrong precinct and all mail votes collected by someone outside of the voter's immediate family to be thrown out. The law is being challenged on the grounds that it unfairly disadvantages rural voters, who have a more difficult time getting their mail ballots delivered to the correct precincts. Which comes closer to your view?
